Hello. I'm John, 30 years old male from Finland. I'm exclusively attracted to 7–13 year old boys. I don't really feel sexual desire towards adults. I can basically only feel emotional attraction to adults. I dislike the changes what puberty makes in a person. If I could choose, I would like to be font-family: "Comic Sans MS"; font-size:13 something like 10 years old boy forever.

I am not a child molester. I have never acted on my pedophilia. I have never had sex with anyone. I'm a total virgin. I have never even kissed anyone or had a relationship with anyone.

I certainly don't wish anyone to be sexually attracted to children! Similarly, I don't wish anyone to be left to suffer alone in dark with any kind of mental burden like bullying or pedophilia. In my opinion, pedophilia is a crazy and serious disease which has a great potential to cause suffering to the person itself and sadly even to other people including innocent children as well. People with this kind of disease really need help and support! Especially it should be a lot easier for teenagers or young adults to be able to tell a trustable person about their pedophilia and get help and support for their problems.

It is mentally heavy to carry a secret and have the feeling of being greatly different than others. A couple of years ago, I have actually got help and support for my pedophilia. I have been lucky that not any doctor or any other person to whom I have told about this, has reacted in a negative and destructive way but in a supportive and constructive way. I have also tried chemical castration with triptorelin and Androcur but it made me feel too tired in order to be able to work. I don't work around children because it would be mentally too heavy to me. I have never worked around children.

I am committed to never act on my pedophilia and I am also committed to completely stay off child porn. I believe both of those are sins. I watch only legal images of boys and also legal children's movies and TV-shows. I don't believe masturbation is a sin. Especially in my case, it helps me to survive with this annoying disease. I think I am partially still a child-like a part of my mental development had stopped at some point in my childhood. I am also a believer in Jesus Christ and I believe He will heal me sooner or later.

I can't wait to get rid of my pedophilia and meet my Savior.
